Date of the Antislavery Times, called in and gave a half hour talk, addressed to him respecting Antislavery to be delivered, notwithstanding complaints of the severity of the speech. The Antislavery Times, however, has been suspended for some time. It was not convenient to make a formal statement, but it was necessary. The descendants for the family of Dr. W. M. Mann, were more than double the sales for the same month in '72, and each has generally been equal to the other.

The meetings of the Antislavery Society, which were all well attended, and the speakers were all well received.

George Cumming, the city confederate, is now living in his new quarters in the store room of the old building, in the rear of his former residence, and is doing well.
